

The River

The River's a traveller,
It goes beyond anyone's sight
As it twists and turns
Around mountains and islands.

The River's a clown,
Super energetic - moves up and down,
He tells jokes
Before eating up your toe!

By Okosibo

The River's a singer,
His song echoes though the wild
Like a cat gently meowing for his owner
Tunes of musical songs.

The River's a hunter,
It's hungry and vexed,
It flows though the wild
To find something to eat.
